

Impact study

SOURCE FFR was divided into two projects with different focuses - assessing the region's exposure to ultrafine particles (exposure study) and their health effects (impact study).

The work on designing a future UFP impact study commenced on January 1, 2023, and is currently ongoing.